

HISTORY

LVJA was founded by the Seventh-Day Adventist church located at Tenth and Carson in the 1940's to offer families an alternative to public education in a Christian atmosphere.

In the early 1960's, the church realized there was a need to reach more of the community, so by 1963 land was purchased to build a new facility at our present location. Classrooms were built in 1964 and a gymnasium was completed in 1968.

From our humble beginning, LVJA has believed in the importance of a child's academic program being paramount in their development mentally, socially, physically, and spiritually.

The belief that what a child learns in school will last an eternity has enabled LVJA to play a significant part in our graduates becoming doctors, lawyers, professional athletes, business leaders, clergy, and community leaders for over 50 years.

Today, LVJA is honored to be operated with the leadership and guidance of two church constituents comprised of Centennial Hills and Paradise Seventh-day Adventist Churches, which are driven by our Mission and the desire to educate our children for eternity.

SCHOLASTIC ACHIEVEMENT

LVJA strives to instill the importance of scholastic excellence in each of our students. Our classes are sized to allow one-on-one attention to specific areas of need and to motivate the student to think outside the box when approaching an assignment.

We offer classes ranging from K5 through 10th grade. The entire academic program is well rounded and balanced giving your child an excellent education.

At LVJA all students love their teachers and they say that their teachers love them.

Teachers and Staff

The teaching staff at LVJA has the collective experience of 100+ years teaching children the value of a Christian based education. The principal and his staff are dedicated to providing teachers and students with the tools and knowledge necessary to accomplish their academic goals, and with the utmost confidence for students to achieve success throughout their adult life.

Our teachers and staff epitomize the mission of this school to strive for academic excellence, character development, and positive relations.

CHRISTIAN ATMOSPHERE

Bible-based Approach

Las Vegas Junior Academy is supported by a collection of Seventh-day Adventist churches in the Las Vegas valley. It is the desire of these churches to provide an educational setting where their children can study in a Christian environment that nurtures and promotes their core beliefs.

Diversity

Our school welcomes all children of any faith and national background, to become embraced in a loving and caring educational process that believes what a child learns in school will last an eternity.

This is exemplified in the spirit of growth and genuine belief of success from every teacher, staff member, and the principal. We truly love each student and that love is returned daily from every student.
